Madam here you may fit your self

With all sorts of good Pinns,

Sirs here is Jet and here is Haire

Gold and Cornelian Rings:

A 2

Here

Here is an English Cunny Furre
Russia hath no such stufte,
 Which for to keepe your Fingers warme
 Excells your Sable Muffe.

Come Lads and Ladies what d' you lack,
Here is ware of all prizes,
Here's long and short, here's wide and streight,
Here are things of all sizes.

Pray Madam sit I'le shew good ware,
 For crowding nere fear that,
 Against a stall or on a stoole
 You'le nere hurt a Cravatt;
 Here's Childrens bawbles, and mens too
 To play with for delight,
 Here's Round-heads, which turn'd every way,
 At length will stand upright.

Come Lads and Ladies what d' you lacke
Here is ware of all prizes,
Here's long and short, here's wide and straight
Here are things of all sizes.

Here's Dice and Boxes if you please
 To play at In and In;
 Here's Horns for Browes & Browes for Hornes
 Which never will be seene:
 Here is a set of Kittle Pinns
 With Bowles at them to role,

And

And if you like such trundling sport,
Here is my Ladyes hole.

Here are hot Boyes have backs like Bulls,
At first sight can leap Lasses,
And bearded Lads hold out like Goates
And here are some like Affes ;
Here are Gallants that can out do
Your Usher or your Page,
You need not go to Ludgate more
Till threescore yeares of age.

*Come Lads and Ladyes what d' you lack,
Here's ware of all prizes,
Here's long and short, here's wide and streight,
Here is things of all sizes.*

Madam here's a Pragmaticus
'Twas Aulicus of late,
And here is an Elenticus
That fallacies doth prate :
Here the Intelligence to see
How about him they do throng,

Whilst

Whilst Melancholicus alone
Walks here to make this song.

Then let's no more talk old &c.

Then Lads and Ladyes if you lack,
Here is ware of all prizes,
Here's long and short, here's wide and freight,
